AI Overview

"Chemicals in the Water" is a musical written by David Quang Pham. It's a "musical romantic comedy", and also described as a "science-based dystopia". The show has been performed at The Tank in New York. It's part of a series of science-themed musicals by Pham, who also creates science songs. The musical has also been featured in other events, such as the Underground Skills Exchange Summer Nostalgia Cabaret.

The musical seems to be connected to a larger project by Pham, who creates science-based musicals and songs. The title, "Chemicals in the Water," may be a reference to the science theme of the musical, as water treatment often involves the use of chemicals. It's also possible the title is a metaphor, given that the show is described as a "dystopian" love story.

Here's a breakdown of key details:

- Creator: David Quang Pham
- Genre: Musical romantic comedy, science-based dystopia
- Setting: The Tank, New York
- Themes: Science, love, potential dystopia
- Performances: The musical has been featured in both the Tank and other events like the Underground Skills Exchange.
